Honorable R. Hill Fleet Tells Of 'Virginia's Challenge'

Fashion Show Presented By Home Ec. Dept.

In connection with the Home Economics Department of the college, the first year clothing class, under the direction of Miss Annabel L. Merrill, instructor in Dietetics and Home Economics, presented a Fashion Show on Tuesday evening, January 24, at eight o'clock in the auditorium.

The show, the idea of which was conceived and written by Winifred Lindeman of the Freshman Class, was presented in four acts, each depicting the daily activities of the life of a typical college girl, as preserved in her diary.

The following girls were among those who took part in the show: Irene Heaniger, Charlotte Richardson, Charlotte Woodburn, Jeanette Foster, Jeanette Berry, Marjorie Green, Lucille Schuster, Marjorie Anderson, Catherine Grant, Eleanor Sommers, Sue Echols, Mary Bromfield, Sally McPhaie, Dorothy Eaton, Ruth Capon, Eleanor Russell, Marguerite Tuck, Margaret Marshall, and Lois Helmer.

Henrietta Roberts, president of the Home Economics Club, sang several popular selections between the various acts of the show. The numbers which she chose were: "My Reverie," "Stardust of a Song," and "Time Getting Sentimental Over You."

MWC Orchestra Gives Chapel Program

The freshman chapel program last Tuesday consisted of a program of music by the Mary Washington jazz orchestra. The program was introduced in an unusual manner by Mr. Weiss. The orchestra played a group of several popular songs with Kay Nelson acting as vocalist. Mr. Faulkner conducted.

Jitterbug Contest To Be Sponsored By Sophs

The Sophomore's search for something original and entertaining in the line of a Benefit was recently ended by the suggestion that they sponsor a Jitter-Bug Fling, suggested by both Clara Duggan and Marjorie Johnson. The Jitter-Bug Fling will be held in the Gym Friday Night, February 3. The Melodeers Orchestra will furnish the music.

There will be a contest that is open to all students of Mary Washington College. An entry blank will be found in this Bulletin. Entrants must fill out and turn the blank in to Lucy Dickinson, Mary Hall 301.

Honor Guest

HON. R. HILL FLEET

'38 Graduate Making Good At U. Of Va.

Word has just been received that Anna Mae Harris, Mary Washington College graduate of the class of '38, is making good at the University of Virginia where she is working on her Master's degree.

Miss Harris was awarded the Dupont Fellowship for graduate study last spring. This in itself was a very high honor which speaks very highly for both the college and Miss Harris.

Three A's in Mathematics is her record so far at the University. Dr. James Southall Wilson, Dean, has commented on her unusual success. In a letter written to the college he remarked that her record was most unusual and that she had accomplished something she could well be proud of.

Miss Harris was President of the International Relations Club and was well known for her splendid record made while in attendance at Mary Washington College.

"March Of Dimes" Sponsored By YWCA

A "March of Dimes" will constitute Sunday's devotional service, which will be held at 6:45 P. M. in the auditorium. Students are asked to contribute a dime each toward the fund for the prevention of infantile paralysis. When this money is collected, the Y. W. C. A. devotionals committee, headed by Ethel Twyford, will mail it to President Roosevelt.

Dr. Moss has been asked to speak at the program; the Y. W. choir will furnish the music.

First Bullet Convocation Successful

On Wednesday night, January 25, in the auditorium, the Bullet Staff for the first time in history, sponsored a Convocation program. The speaker of the evening was Mr. R. Hill Fleet, member of the House of Delegates from Richmond and Lancaster counties.

Mr. Fleet delivered an interesting and entertaining lecture on Virginia's Challenge. He told of our wealth of History and natural scenery, of our large tourist trade which brings into our state every year between one hundred twenty-five and one hundred fifty dollars, and of our substantial financial condition with less debt than any state in the union. In contrast with these high standards he gave alarming statistics showing our low standards in Education. His report on Virginia's educational status showed Virginia ranking 42 of the 48 states in adequate financial support for education, ranking 40 in expenditure per pupil, and 36 in quality of rural schools. In coordination with our lack of educational facilities Mr. Hill gave statistics showing Virginia ranking 7 highest in murder, larceny, and burglary. He gave as reason for these conditions, our low economic status, and our lack of educational, recreational, and religious facilities.

The speaker, in closing, challenged the student body as future teachers and citizens, to exert their every effort to improve our educational status.

Mr. Fleet was recently elected secretary of the Code Commission for the revision of school books in the state of Virginia. He is an alumnae of the University of Richmond, and the University of Virginia.

Freshman Chorus Elects Officers

The second meeting of the recently organized Freshman Chorus took place last Monday evening in Munroe Hall under the direction of Miss Eppes. A business meeting was conducted in which the following officers were elected: President, Betty Hoffman; Vice President, Alfreda Steele; Secretary and Treasurer, Ruth Scarlett.

Katharine Nutt was appointed librarian, and she chose Dorothy Bruce and Dorothy Graff to be her assistants.

In addition to the elections various matters were settled and some regulations were made concerning membership. The enrollment now numbers nearly sixty. The girls sing with enthusiasm and derive much pleasure from their evenings together.

KEYHOLE KOMMENTS

What a week-end this past one was! The girls who went to the boxing matches did more than view a few matches—they made them. Marge McCullough didn't do so badly by herself. She was invited up by one boy, went to the fights with another, and received a bid for midwinters from still another. Can't find out from Grundy just what she did in specific, so I'd better not give it in general.

Dot Newton tried to steal the show this week. I know the fact that she received a diamond from a boy whom she had dated only three times is old stuff by now, but it deserves a place in print.

Glennis Powers is the latest proud possessor of a diamond. Lucky girl! Two new rings on the hill in one week is almost too much for me.

Wonder how Brooksie came out on holding down two dates Sunday. Her date for the Cottillion and a boy from home showed up on the same afternoon. More power to you, Brooksie!

A combination cigarette case, lighter, and compact is my idea of a swell birthday present, and that's just what Billy gave Janet Trennis. It pays to have birthdays, doesn't it Trennis?—Or is he the one who pays?

Have you heard? Alvin got the job. But a look at Connie's beaming face is all one needs to know that.

Nita Lassiter had an all-day date Sunday. Cute, too, Nita. Do you guess it took him that long to tell her how pretty she looked in the beauty contest?

Peg Haynie was in town over the week-end. If she doesn't start making some occasional visits to the campus, we're going to disown her. That reminds me—Alice Rife made a flying trip here Saturday afternoon.

Faie Livermon—Can't you make up your mind as to which one it really is? You have us puzzled.

Mary Dryden, President of Freshman Commission, just can't wait until May when her tall blond interest comes home from Alabama.

ONE SATURDAY NIGHT

Gina and Janie and Edith and I decided to have a spread. Gina said she would bring pickles. Edith said she would bring bread.

I said that I would bring drinks for us all, Janie said she'd bring the meat. We planned for a grand and a glorious feast. On lots of good things to eat.

Then at the very last moment Poor Gina developed the mumps. The pickles were out of the question. Since she had those horrible bumps.

Then Edith came down with a terrible cold. And she had to be put into bed. So Janie and I were left holding the bag. Of sliced ham and cakes without bread.

So Janie took all her sliced ham and went home. And I got a good book and read. Who wants to eat all the time anyhow?

You only have to reduce.

Becky Biddlestone.

It seems that Elva Lloyd Everitt and Eleanor Adams are having a little trouble over somebody's V. P. I. cadet. Is that right?

What's the big attraction at home every week-end, Agnes Stewart?

No wonder Sadie Sutton is feeling so happy this week—who wouldn't after 2 "specials" and a telephone call in one day.

It takes a long time to find out things from the freshmen, but at last it has leaked out. Sis Cooper has decided that for the present going to Annapolis would be better than marriage. Was it that trip home at Christmas, Sis?

The town boys are the heart-throbs for the President's Ball. Among those going: Dot Adams, Jamie Miller, Kitty Hundley, "Tess" Wilkins, Wayne Hoops, and lots of others. How do you do it girls?

Nancy Hornsby also seems to have an interest at Annapolis. She plans to spend a week-end there sometime in the near future.

Well, "kind friends and gentle hearts", if you all aren't too jittery from the effects of last Saturday's bliefit, lounge in your chair, lend me your tympanic membrane, and we shall see how the wood burns today. Here are two questions that you should be able to answer for they are part of your education. The top question for last week was "Why did Nelson Eddy marry Mrs. Franklin?" Next week's question is "What notable celebrates a birthday on next Sunday?" In case you don't know the answers, I guess you'll just have to read the whole column to find out.

The writer wishes to commend the Junior and Senior classes for their recent shows. The former deserves commendation for its timeliness, originality, the latter for its spice and variety. Praise also must go to Jean, our ideal girl, and to Edith, our beauty.

Anyone desiring recommendations for the course about to mentioned are urged to ask Sally Stokley for her opinion of world literature, Gertrude Gresham for her idea of Music Survey and Dr. Reichenbach, Almada Hill for her viewpoint of English Survey, and just anyone at all for her opinion of the history of civilization. These students are authorities on the subjects named.

I certainly hope you aren't disappointed to learn that Nelson Eddy married Mrs. Franklin, and not you or your best friend, because he loved her. We might all go after Charlie McCarthy, but let's not all answer at once.

Third Y. W. C. A. Tea Sunday

The Y. W. C. A. is having its third tea of the season Sunday afternoon from 3:30 to 4:30 in the Dome Room of Seacoveck Hall. Invitations have been sent to three hundred students and fifteen faculty members.

About half of the student body has been entertained at the Sunday afternoon teas. The Y. W. Teas have been a social function on the hill for many years with members of the cabinet as hostesses.

Betty Whitacre Elected V.-P. Of Science Club

Will Replace
Doris Staggs

On Tuesday, January 17, the Science club convened in room 15, Monroe Hall. At this meeting the theme for the program was Medicine. Four members of the club gave enlightening talks relative to the field of medicine. Elizabeth Alexander spoke on The New Microscope; Clara Vandra on Some Modern Drugs; Mary Head on Some Advancements in Science during the Past Year; and Peggy Snow on The X-Ray in Medicine.

During the meeting Betty Whitacre was elected vice-president to fill the vacancy made by Doris Staggs's absence from the college. Plans were also completed for the annual formal dinner to be given at the Southern Grill on Friday evening, February 10. It was decided that the initiates take charge of the program for this occasion. Louise Harris, president of the club, announced that the Science club will present a convocation program probably in March, at which time Dr. Roy Cook, the club's sponsor, will display some scientific slides.

Many members were present at this meeting, after which refreshments were served.

Approximately six new members were voted into the club at the next meeting which is scheduled for Tuesday, February 21. The selection of a pin or key for the members of the Science club will be decided upon at this time.

LEAFED VISION

That one lone leaf o'er looked the world,
Faltering and faint on its twisted limb—

Browned by four seasons—now wrinkled and curled,
Yet strong through the rains, the light, and the dim.

I could dream of a kiss by the crisp Spring breeze,
Or glory in the warmth of suns long past,

And recollect in its joy to glance at the trees
All laden with the snow of Winter's blast.

From without it's arched view two lovers were born,
Below, the pond had frozen while it's gold fish slept.

And the flocks of geese had ventured so sinister a scorn
To the onfligh of coldness that Winter's breath swept.

Glory at the dawning or peace at even tide—

Belongs to that one leaf still clinging there,
Devoid of sister kin to company by it's side—

'Till when the winds shall howl and the tree become bare.

So when out of the North blew a gale and cold—

To shiver the leaf and the tree with one breath,

It severed the petal from all that of old

To bid it adieu with the still kiss of death.

That seeing, knowing, lifeless stem—

Closed sad eyes to the world and it's sin,
Breathed a silent farewell to all past and then—

Floated silently down to the poorly depths and even so silently in!

—Marjory Garrison.

Mabel Moffit Elected Reporter For Home Ec Club

Last Thursday night the Home Economics Club held its monthly meeting. Mrs. Hearndon, a representative of the Virginia Dairy Council, was the guest speaker for the evening. She showed a film, published by the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture, entitled "Food Is Not Enough." The principal theme of the film stressed the importance of a balanced diet and the relation of milk to the diet.

Mabel Moffit was elected the new club reporter.

A convocation program will be presented April 26 to the freshmen. The subject has not yet been selected but it will be something necessitating the participation of the members.

A formal initiation will be held at the next meeting for the new members.

The catering unit of the club served the English club at a recent meeting. This service is available for all the clubs at a nominal fee.

Engagement

The engagement of Miss Catherine Davis of Saluda and an alumna of Mary Washington, has been announced to Mr. Fairfax Gray Davis of Ashland.

A Sextet of Beauties at Mary Washington College

Edith Beamer Chosen "Miss Mary Washington" Of 1939

"Miss Mary Washington of 1939" was chosen on Friday, January 21, at the annual Beauty Contest which was sponsored by the Junior Class. The winner of that contest was Edith Beamer, of Hillsville, Virginia, who was a representative of the Freshman Class.

Given Cup

Edith, who has been in several beauty contests before, was presented with a beautiful silver loving cup by Leighton Stevens, who was presiding as Mistress of Ceremonies. This cup is now being engraved with the name of the winner.

Was Surprised

"I was so surprised that I could hardly believe it," she said. "Every time I was called back I thought: Well, there's no use worrying this time—I'll surely be out next time." But for each of the four rounds she was called back; and finally Edith was brought back and introduced as "Miss Mary Washington of 1939."

Wore White Chiffon

"My dress was really very simple," Edith demurred when she was asked about the gown which she had worn. And although it was, it was charming in its simplicity—a white chiffon sprinkled all over with sparkling little sparkles.

Enjoyed It All

And Edith, who is as sweet and charming as she is pretty, finished the interview by saying, "I really did enjoy it all! It was lots of fun and we had such a good time doing it.—well, yes, I was terribly thrilled when I won."

Student Council Entertain Faculty And Upper Classmen

On Thursday evening the Student Council members gave a delightful dance for the Sophomores, Juniors, Seniors and faculty members. Roland Leveques' popular orchestra played and the gym was attractively decorated with lanterns, palms and greens.

The Honorable And Mrs. R. Hill Fleet Honor Guests At Reception Given By Bullet Staff

The Honorable and Mrs. R. Hill Fleet of Irvington, Virginia, were the honor guests at an informal reception given by the members of the Bullet staff of the college on Wednesday evening, January 25, at eight o'clock in the Dome Room of Seacobeck Hall.

Virginia Jones, presented to the group by Elizabeth Bodwell, editor of the Bullet, and accompanied by Jeanne Johnson at the piano, sang the popular musical selection "They Say."

Mary Lou Monroe, associate editor of the Bullet, presided at the punch bowl. After punch and iced cake blocks had been served, the group, accompanied by Hon. Fleet at the piano, sang familiar melodies, both old and new.

Among other guests present were Dr. Vogelback, sponsor of the Bullet, Miss Mary McKenzie, Mr. Harold Weiss, and members of the Publicity Department of the college.

Rosalie Johnson and Connie Hawthorne are expecting as their week-end guests Esta Everett, Hazel Briggs and Margaret Cooley.

Muriel Gordon will spend the week-end with her cousin Myrtle Gordon.

Clelia Petercelli and Barbara Gaines will have Miss Betty Flanagan of Seton Hill College, Penn., as their week-end guest.

Lucille Dettor is giving up Charlottesville for one week-end to go to Annapolis February 4. Who is he Lucille?

Midge Clapp hasn't yet learned to arrange her afternoon and evening dates so they won't coincide. How about it Midge?

Next Sunday is President Roosevelt's birthday. Let's have a party.

SOCIETY NOTES

Esther Cain is going home to Arlington this week-end.
Connie Mangus plans to week-end it in Richmond.

Arlington is calling Martha Payne this week-end.

Peggy Thompson is going home to Oakton for the week-end.

Jannie Lee Crowder and Ann Stokes will spend the week-end at Blackstone.

Spotting the Sports

With Jane Adams

What's the matter with all youse gals? Have you completely forgotten what's on that hill overlooking the golf course? The cabin, of course. You know that you can spend the week-end out there, don't you? Jeanne Rogers is the girl to see, she's the chairman of the cabin. First of all, tho', you have to sign up for it in advance. Get your own crowd together and decide what week-end you would like to spend in the cabin. Then go see Jeanne. Your chaperone must be one of the faculty members. I bet there are a lot of you Freshmen who haven't even seen the cabin. After you have once seen it, you will be counting the days until it is time for your crowd to go up. Hurry up—after this is seen, the free week-ends will be scarce.

As the dormitory tournament draws to a close, all basketball fans anxiously await the intramural games. We're all pleased with the outburst of enthusiasm that has been shown during these dorm games. Jo Inskip just brought a schedule of class games to me, so I'll pass it on to you.

Feb. 4, Alumnae-Varsity, Junior-Freshman.

Feb. 10, Sophomore-Senior.

Feb. 14, Senior-Freshmen.

Feb. 16, Junior-Sophomore.

Feb. 24, Junior-Senior.

Feb. 28, Freshman-Sophomore.

Mar. 4, Devil-Goat.

You will all want to see the double-header on the 4th. Not only because it will be the opening game of the season, but also because the Alumnae are coming back especially for this game. They will play the honorary varsity—the real varsity being chosen at the close of the season. You all ought to make it a special point to see all of these games. Come on out and cheer for your team.

Several new members have recently been taken into the A. A. Most of these were girls who won their points during the hockey season. The A. A. is proud of these new members and is very glad to have them in the group. Remember, girls, only seventy-five points are necessary for membership. There are ever so many ways in which you may win points. Certainly, hiking is one of the most important. At the A. A. meeting it was agreed upon to change the letter from F to MW. The colors will be changed to blue and white. It was also decided that A. A. council members alone will receive the small letter to wear on pockets, collars, etc.

As a final reminder, don't forget to sign up for the cabin as soon as you can. Otherwise, the other fellow will get there first.

Riding Club

Takes In

New Members

The membership of the Riding Club of the college was increased considerably yesterday, Thursday, January 26, when approximately forty-nine girls were initiated into the club.

A tentative list of the initiates is made up of the following names: Blanche Bristow, Annabel Cowles, Rose Sutton, Susan Wilson, Jean Bamfield, Marjorie Edmisten, Betty Ann Bowser, Lucia Drake, Elizabeth Ferguson, Marjorie Garrison, Elizabeth Manning, Jean McCormick, Barbara Nocks, Marjorie Owen, Betty Holbrook, Kathryn Matthews, Marianne Ryan, Myra Birchett, Dorothea Hughes, Hollis Pope, Virginia Reel, Jane Roccop, Emmon Smith, Lorraine Wolfson, Dorothea Lewis, Geraldine Anthony, Doris Eberman, Mary Elizabeth Gurn, Dorothy Newton, Frances Ogden, Elizabeth Parlin, Margaret Sinclair, Virginia Bennett, Sara Dodd, Mary Alice Parker, Jeannette Persinger, Eliza Lumbrey, and Prentice Vaun.

The members of the Riding Club met on Thursday night, immediately following Convocation, in Room 16 of Monroe Hall. At this time plans for a tea were made.

Kay Rucker, president of the club, presided.

A. A. Initiates New Members January 26

Having attained a total of 75 or more points by making the hockey team last fall, 21 M. W. C. students were initiated into the A. A. last Thursday, January 26.

All the new members could easily be spotted on the campus by their peculiar appearance as well as by their apparent anxiousness to please old members, under whose control they were placed from 7 in the morning till 6 that evening.

At 6:45 of the same day, new as well as old members, met to discuss a new constitution and changing of letters, numerals and colors. They also made plans for the alumnae-varsity basketball game, scheduled for February 4, and a banquet to be held at the end of the current basketball season.

New members are: Evelyn Anderson, Lois Bowman, Rebecca Buckingham, Lavinia Ellet, Varrel Drew, Margaret Johnson, Muriel Millikin, Ann Pekich, Jeanette Penny, Martha Murray, Peggy Parch, Mildred McPherson, Barbara Bryant, Jane Carnwell, Virginia Dare Dougherty, Margaret Tilman, Betty Harker, Maxine Morea, Elaine Parks, Muriel Summers, Vivian Dixon.

I.R.C. Meeting Tuesday To Elect New Members

Mr. Weiss To Direct Chapel Program

There will be a meeting of the I. R. C. Tuesday at which time the names of new members will be brought up. The quota for the club is fifty, to be divided into active and inactive members. The active unit will have 30 members with the following qualifications, a B average and either a history or social science major or minor. The inactive group must have a C average and either be interested in the club work or be a history or social science major or minor.

A chapel program, under the direction of Mr. Weiss and his playwriting class, is planned for the 21st of February to honor the birth of Washington. The program will consist of a playlet of incidents from Washington's life.

On the 22nd the club will have a convocation program for the upperclassmen. The speakers will be three Jewish rabbis from Richmond, who will discuss the Palestinian question. Previous to the speech, the speakers are to be entertained at the Southern Grill.

A number of club plans for the spring quarter have been announced:

1. The girls from the Crozer Theological Seminary will be here sometime in April. These girls represent various countries and will give an informal talk on the customs and habits of their native homes.

2. The Mary Washington I. R. C. will send eight or ten delegates under the chaperonage of Mr. Darter to the Southeastern Regional Conference of I. R. C., which will take place at William and Mary, April 6, 7 and 8.

3. The Mary Washington chapter of I. R. C. also will be represented at the Youth Conference at the University of Virginia April 21. The theme of this meeting will be to study the southern economic problems of today. Among the prominent speakers will be Mrs. Roosevelt, Dr. Frank P. Graham and Governor James H. Price.

All those interested in becoming members of the I. R. C. are urged to drop their names in the ballot box in Monroe.
